TEN YEARS. ONE BRIDGE. ONE EVENING.

Every day in Shasta County, a child walks through a door after the worst day of their life. A family arrives when the systems they trusted have failed them. An adult survivor steps forward, ready to begin healing. What happens next depends entirely on who is waiting on the other side of that door.

For ten years, the people of Children's Legacy Center have been waiting. Forensic interviewers. Trauma therapists. Family advocates. Medical professionals. Trafficking response specialists. They do not do this work for recognition. They do it because the children have nowhere else to go. State and federal contracts pay for the floor of what every child deserves. Philanthropy is what raises the ceiling. This is the first time we have gathered the community around a single table to celebrate what has been built.

On a Saturday evening in September, the Diestelhorst Bridge will be closed and transformed. One continuous table will run its length, lit from above, framed by the Sacramento River on either side. Odell Craft BBQ has built a multi-course menu specifically for this evening and this place. Our team will share the impact Children's Legacy Center has made over the last ten years and invite guests to partner as we envision the next ten years.

Sponsorship of this event is sponsorship of the people waiting on the other side of that door. It is what allows Children's Legacy Center to say yes to every child, without compromising the quality of care.

Every yes from a sponsor is a yes to a child who needs somewhere to go after the worst day of their life.

*State and federal contracts make this possible.
Philanthropy is what allows us to do more of it, and do it better.*

The children and youth that Children's Legacy Center serves did not choose the worst day of their lives. The families who walk through our doors did not choose to need us. What the community of Shasta County can choose is what happens next. This evening is that choice.
